

I depend on XM radio for up to the minute weather and traffic conditions as I travel from state to state. It is very important to be able to monitor the stations and be sure of approaching conditions especially when traveling. Many times local stations do not come on when I need them and if severe conditions mean you need to know immediately only XM is on top of it. Try to worry about important things in this country, not XM radio which provides a very, very important service! Do not limit my rights for free access to ALL information that XM radio is able to provide.
